Subject: FedReg notice on email

After Page Miller left a message yesterday re her intent to put our fedreg notice online on the historians bulletin board and asked if we have an email address, I traded calls with her several times to tell her we don't yet have one (per our decision not to put your address up). Unfortunately, we didn't connect until this morning. Meanwhile, she called Anna last night, who gave her your personal email address. Hopefully you won't be deluged; if you do get responses could you print them for the file? I told Page that we will be getting an office address and asked her to call me before she posts anything else so I can give her the correct email cite. Sorry I couldn't prevent this.
