Subject: Admin printer

The admin printer is up and running. It takes some config stuff in windows to get it working, so if you can wait till Wednesday I will hook it up then, if not page me and I will step you thru the setup. I am currently working on a new windows release that will have WP 6.1 and all the new printers. I hope to work on that this friday and then install in on user machines over the following week. I will also make sure the sound plays for new mail delivery on everyones machine. I have hooked up the other HP printer in the back, its name will be project and it is on a roll around stand. Currently the postscript does not work I need to call HP and have them help me out on the trouble shooting. I think the part we got from entex is incorrect for the 4 plus. I will let you know when its working. thanks
