Subject:	Time sheet database
Body:	Take a look... its called sptimein and only you two have access.I will record my time in and out and the database will add it up. My main question is if tracy can check this on Monday after the pay week ends or does she need to check it on Thursday before the week ends? what is the last point that a time card can be put in. Per our conversation, David I will not be turning in a time sheet in the future but I could print and sign this at some point if we need a paper record.thanks.
