Subject: Our research

Have you called the Academy to find out what might be of use to us in their library? Is it worth our taking a day in Annapolis to research there? Also, shall I call the Naval Institue and follow up on back issues of proceedings to try and get unit histories? What about you and I taking a trip to the Federal Records Center in Suitland to try and track down unit histories? I know you will be busy tomorrow, and I will be at the LoC; but starting Friday, where do you think we should begin-- the Pentagon Library? The LoC? The Academy? BUPERS or St. Louis? Suitland? I'm sure that each place we go will uncover better leads. Also, I have scheduled a meeting with my former CO for May 1 to try and get his personal input on the issues we discussed this morning. I would have preferred an earlier meeting, but he'll be in Hawaii until then, so I had no choice. Hopefully by then, we will have plenty to go with. I am going to try a few other of my old superiors in the next couple of days, and over the weekend. Do you have any other ideas as to what we can do or where we can get started? And do you think we would be better off seperately, or should we do the research together? On an unrelated note, could you make a copy of that staff bio sheet and return my copy to me at your convenience?

Body: I would like to have that list. Thanks a million, Lieutenant.
