Body:	Look at my review of FBI 124-10228-10036. For some reason, the information went with the rif to the "no category" category, as a document that has been reviewed. But, the review issues stayed in the "not yet reviewed" category. Is this a big deal? I also have a few small suggestions.1. A way of clearing all the postponements that you have done and placing the document back in the "not yet reviewed category". This would be necessary if you make a mistake and start reviewing the wrong rif, or wrong postponement within a document. 2. A related need is a button for clearing your work and taking one step back. You might put an incorrect vanilla code down and need to make a change without going through the whole loop again.
