Subject: Glitches in review database

I think you've probably heard this from Kevin already, but just in case you haven't, I wanted to alert you to a peculiarity on the review database. I have found that registering the date of the next review, or any change to a re-review date (put in by one of my team-members) is not possible on the RIF sheet/Review Summary, even if I can get it down on the individual redaction sheet. It simply doesn't show up, or change, on the RIF sheet/Review Summary. Plus, there's a weird string of numbers further down the sheet, under the section summarizing Board action, where the date of the next review belongs.
