Subject: FBI data discs

In our effort to get updated data, I just talked to Pat Schumate of the FBI. She has three discs of information that are bad or the data is corrupted or unretrievable or something. She has been in touch with Mike Getzy, NARA's designer of the database, to figure out what to do. He told her if she can get dBase III or Foxpro loaded onto her computer, he can walk her through the steps to fix the problem. Getzy is now living in St. Louis, and is therefore unavailable to give immediate support. I told Pat that we would be interested in updated data for all discs other than the three bad ones. She will call me tomorrow.
