Subject:	Library of Congress book
Body:	To: David Marwell/ARRBcc: From: Eric Scheinkopf/ARRB Date: 12/26/95 09:04:44 AMSubject: Library of Congress bookI spoke to Elgin Reid at the Library of Congress this morning and talked to him as you suggested. I indicated that we would sign a sworn statement saying that we did not damage the book, as if we believed we had damaged it we would be willing to pay. He said he is fairly confident that the book went out undamaged. He plans to contact the L of C's Office of Inspector General to see what the next step is on his end. I said we would wait to hear from him. I believe that unless I hear from any other sources by early next week that we accept the book that the Second Story Books Rockville Warehouse has. While it is $61 it is still much cheaper than the $118 the Library of Congress would charge. I also doubt we will find a cheaper version. If you okay this I will inform the Library of Congress that we have found a replacement. For your information, the Library of Congress has not inquired about the book since sending us an official notice on February 29, 1996 saying the book must be replaced.
