Subject: Kevin

I spoke to Kevin and Phil about the computer position. As you know, Kevin is very willing to take on the review track/meetings/Federal Register portion of Noelle's work. He did want to be assured that he would not be doing the typing filing portion of Noelle's work and that he would continue to be analyst on the FBI team. I told him that that was my understanding. He also told me that you had mentioned the possibility, at some later date, of perhaps "folding in" parts of Valerie's job. He seemed to me to be unsure as to whether he would want to do that. Phil very much does not want Kevin to do that. I think that it is very important that there be a complete and clear understanding about the scope of his job before he starts. I think that, for morale reasons, it would be a nice bonus to Kevin to offer him one of the private offices (either Valerie's room or Anne's room). I did not raise this issue with him, and I think it is very likely that he would decline. I think, however, it would very nice to make the offer.
