Subject: Martin, TN
Now that the intern/HSCA numbered file project has jelled and will be over at the end of Wednesday of next week, I would be able to go to TN any time after that if that remains something you would like me to do.I could even fly out Wednesday late aft. or evening and drive to Martin late that day (there's apparently a Ramada there) so as to be at UT-Martin when the Library's doors open at 8:00 AM Thursday. This leaves Friday available in the (hopefully) unlikely event that I need more than one day.Or I could go the following week, as you'all see fit. Please advise if I should begin talking to Noelle/Tracy about travel arrangements.PS - Having found this community of less than 9,000 on the map (after some difficulty), I assume hazardous duty pay will be in order for this trip.
