Subject: For the record: HSCA Numbered Files Box 238-A
FYI only, under the category of things you're not interested in and see no conceivable reason for having to remember: the public version of the HSCA Numbered Files record series (at Archives II) contains a box (Box 238-A) which is not present in the original set of this same record series (which is presently housed in our SCIF). Box 238-A consists of HSCA record 180-10099-10302, 600 pages of computer print-out records detailing Jack Ruby's telephone calls. As near as I can figure, the NARA staffers doing the copying way back when simply decided they weren't going to go to the trouble of copying this particular record and so just stuck the original in the box that went out to NARA II. I only mention it because they also did not go to the trouble to create a "dummy" box in the original set so that someone perusing the original set of boxes later on (like us) would know there's a whole box missing from it.
