Subject:	Recording of multiple postponements
Body:	David at one point we had agreed on the principal of recording a postponement only once if it appeared multiple times within a document and was the same. Example a person's name. We have not really ever implemented this concept and the R&A staff have been recording each and every postponement up until now. I would like us to make a clear policy on how to record multi postponements that will let the staff enter a single postponement detail for postponements that appear throughout a document.
