Subject: Weekly update

This past week CIA team has been heavily involved in preparing the Final Determination Forms for the past meeting, a process made much more complex than usual by the Lopez Report and Scelso testimony. We have also continued to review documents. Irene Marr and Michelle Coombs doubled our ranks and promise very welcome relief on the reviewing front once their clearances come through. In the meantime, they are doing a lot of reading and familiarizing themselves with office as well as team procedures. Mary has given them an unclassified briefing on standard review guidelines, while Chet has briefed them on the database. Max Holland has contacted me about the Presidential Daily Briefings for the days immediately following the assassination. They're currently tied up in a Mandatory Review case submitted by the LBJ Library two years ago. I agree with Max that these are very important and should be shaken loose from the system, and I've asked Jeremy for his legal advice on the matter.
