Subject: front door

Apparently the front door has again shifted due to the weight of the door. Please make sure that you lift on the door after throwing the bolt and hear the "deep thud" sound. Please also confirm that the bolt has latched by trying your swipe card. A few times in the past week, the door has been found unbolted in the morning. If you don't understand or have any questions about how to confirm that the door is locked, please see me.
