Subject:	Help!
	Remember way back when my "beginning service date" (or whatever it's called) with TSP was messed up, and they weren't crediting my time on the Hill? You put through whatever paperwork was needed (through GSA, I guess) to correct it -- or so we thought. I just called TSP and they still have "May '95" as my beginning date (that is, when I started w/the Review Board). This is true even though they have a separate record of my TSP account having begun in 1992 (when I joined TSP as a Congressional employee)! The person I talked to said our agency's payroll/personnel peson could possibly sort this out by talking to someone at (504) 255-5110.Would you give this a try? I'd really like to get this straightened out before I lose my full-time status.
