Subject: Computer booboo

Hey Chet!Happy Friday! Well, at least until now, right? My computer has a screen saver on it that I activated yesterday. All day yesterday I had problems and today too. It seems that if a certain amount of time goes by, it won't allow me to come back in and just type my password, rather it freezes up or pseudo freezes up or whatever, and I have to turn the thing completely off, back on and log in before I can get down to business.

Body: What is going on? Any thoughts/ help/ suggestions are appreciated!!!
