Subject: Russian Documents

Nina Noring is coming over after lunch today to deliver 17 pages of documents to us. These documents are in Russian. She said she will deliver the ones in Russian today but that the State translation service will take several weeks to provide an English version. I have requested that she get them translated for us through this service (she doesn't think there is a charge for this). She said there are "five KGB memoranda from when Oswald was arrested." These documents were supposedly turned over to our embassy by Lebedev on November 27, 1995. The embassy claims they sent them to State but no one seems to know where they might be. These latest documents were sent October 1 but "have been somewhere in the Dept. mail service."
