I have placed the Lotus Notes For Dummies book in the ARRB Library.To: Cathy Rodriguez/ARRBcc: From: Chet Rhodes/ARRBDate: 01/10/97 12:50:16 PMSubject: Re: Lotus Notes Help BookMany of the questions that come up are not in the book due to the way we have the system custimized. But some tasks are in the book which I have placed on your desk, when finished lets get it in the library.I am also available by pager for any questions that may come up. Tracy should be notified when you page me.To: Chet Rhodes/ARRBcc: Tracy Shycoff/ARRB, David Marwell/ARRB From: Cathy Rodriguez/ARRB Date: 01/10/97 11:32:23 AMSubject: Lotus Notes Help BookAccording to Tracy, there was supposed to be an "office copy" of a Lotus Notes help book. Do you have that copy? Can we make it available to the entire office, especially in your absence, for help with Lotus Notes database problems for those of us who are relatively new to Lotus Notes?If you are concerned about safekeeping of the book, I could keep it at my desk, or Eric could keep it in the Library for formal sign out. (I have had no problems with my Wordperfect Book disappearing)If you do not have such a book, David, can we buy one?
