I plan to watch the hearing on C-Span; then get some exercise, and be backat my office by about 3 pm PST. Anyway, if there is any problem reachingme today (and I would imagine you're pretty busy today, no?) just give acall tomorrow. If you get the machine, tell me when I should be at thephone. As you may recall, my hours are unusual. I'm often there all night; sleepin the AM, and am up and around by about 1-2pm (PST). I am really excitedabout my LHO manuscript, and there's a couple of things I want to give youin that area (one of which I completely forgot to mention when we spoke inL.A.). Also, Marina called me no less than 5 times last week---which makesme think I should be able to exert some pressure to get her to sign thosereleases.Actually, I'm pretty optimistic about the hearing, too. I'm hoping theboard recommends the sort of thing I proposed, and that---if litigated---itis upheld in the courts.Anyway, there was nothing personal about my writing the memo I did---I feltobligated to do it for the record, since it represents what I believe. Also, I personally lobbied C-Span to cover it, since I wanted to see thedamn thing! (And it worked---which I could hardly believe! The producercalled me back late yesterday to report that as a result of me and someoneelse who called and emailed, they brought it up at their meeting anddecided to cover it.)So democracy works. I feel empowered. The show starts in about 55 minutes;and unlike all you guys crowded into a small room, I'm going to watch itfrom the comfort of my residence, and then take a nice long walk on thebeach afterwards. Its beautiful weather out here. But give me regards to David and the Board.Enjoy the snow, and the hearing. (g)Best,David
