

NR_key_name: 56045347862C77E4852565D7007DC800
SendTo: Kevin CopyTo: Laura DisplayBlindCopyTo:
BlindCopyTo:
From: CN=Joseph Freeman/O=ARRB
DisplayFromDomain:
DisplayDate: 03/30/1998
DisplayDate_Time: 6:17:12 PM
ComposedDate: 03/30/1998
ComposedDate_Time: 5:53:52 PM
Subject: Draft FBI/Church memo, etc.

Attached is a draft memo reflecting the take of my last visit. You'll note the locating references are more imprecise than the last time, reflecting the nature of the ebf files. To recapitulate, I finished the entire 2-drawer file cabinet to the back left of Margaret's desk and the following boxes: 551 ebf, Bin 16-H (not a box, but stacked w/the boxes)583 ebf, Box 39670 ebf, Box 54670 ebf, Box 55672 ebf, Box 51672 ebf, Box 521294x ebf, Box 1 of 2, Box 421294x ebf, Box 2 of 2, Box 42A1344 ebf, Box 53In addition, I got through 1966 of the photocopied card files contained in the first two bindered sections of 583 ebf, Box 2 of 3.If the draft doesn't reach you for whatever reason, let me know.Came across the following in an article about the origins of Irish names: "Tiarnan m. (TEER-nawn) From the Old Irish name Tigernan: tigerna "lord, superior, chief" + the diminutive -an. A popular name in early and medieval Ireland, borne by several kings and saints, including St. Tigernan of County Mayo, whose feast day is April 8. Anglicized as Tiernan."Your last name started out as a first name, I guess.P.S. How are you celebrating your Feast Day??1317 ebf, Box 56

Body:
recstat: Record
DeliveryPriority: N
DeliveryReport: B
ReturnReceipt:
Categories: