Subject: Questions

Picked up Groden's Search for Oswald for $5.99 today. Only answer if you have the time (but let me know if you don't): Was a record generated by Humes/Boswell review of autopsy photos/x-rays on 11/1/66? If so, was it out before the JFK Act? Did the Military Review (is that the short-hand term?) of 1/20/67 create a report/records, and when were any such records released (ie, prior to JFK Act, or after)? Are there any other records other than the Report itself (released 1/16/69, right?) generated by the Clark Panel of 2/26-27/68, and if so, had they been released prior to JFK Act? Is it correct to say, as the HSCA does, that these latter two prior examinations were not concerned, per se, with the authentication of the x-rays and photos? Relative to 11/1/66, though, were Humes and Boswell authenticating, or just helping NARA organize the materials? The above I need for Chapter 1. The questions below are just for curiosity's sake and don't need to be answered unless you have nothing better to do. Is Osborne (held a bullet at the autopsy) still alive, and did we ever talk to him about his alleged handling of that "record"? Fletcher Knebel wrote a piece for Look magazine in July '66, says Lifton (I've never seen it; I'm sure you have), for which he interviewed Boswell and two WC attorneys. Is Knebel alive, and have we ever contacted him about notes or other records regarding his interview of Boswell? When does Humes say he wrote (as opposed to burnt) his first draft of the autopsy report? How does that relate to the call(s?) from Parkland, re: throat wound, transit/non-transit. Was he ever asked what the revisions were between his first and subsequent draft? Hope all is well. P.S. I intend to slip a Norman Mailer quote into my chapter draft, re: the Warren Commission ("As inquiry, the Warren Commission's work resembles a dead whale decomposing on a beach.") What do you think?
