FYI To: Joseph Freeman/ARRBcc: From: Douglas Horne/ARRBDate: 07/16/98 09:15:54 AMSubject: Re: Last question of the dayIt's all published in volume 7--one of the few things they did publish. They buried the disputes among witnesses over whether the wounds at autopsy looked like the autopsy photos.To: Dougcc: From: Joseph Freeman/ARRB Date: 07/15/98 03:27:47 PMSubject: Last question of the dayI promise. The whole HSCA Medical Panel/Humes-Boswell debate over the location of the entry wound in the President's head. Is the transcript of the Panel's interview of Humes and Boswell in the published HSCA volumes (my recollection is that it is), or was it buried in the Committee's unpublished files?Of course, I've already promised something similar to Eileen and Tracy, and I don't know how much my budget will take, but if I get back to D.C. before we close up shop, there's a beer or two in all this for you. (Let me anticipate your asking the same question Eileen did: no, not a beer per question.)
