Just FYI, I would be happy to stay on here until September 11th to help wrap things up if such a need exists. Per early communications, I understand that my current position ends at the end of this month. However, I just want to let you all know that I could stay for two additional weeks if necessary. If you would like me to stay past the end of August, please let me know as soon as possible, preferably by the end of this week. Thanks, Mose
