Subject:	Deposing JFK Library

Body:

To: Ron Haron/ARRBcc: Laura Denk/ARRB (bcc: Non-Record/ARRB)From: Irene Marr/ARRB Date: 08/04/98 05:29:04 PMSubject: Deposing JFK LibraryThere may be an alternative to going that route. I spoke with Stephanie Fawcett this morning about RFK and compliance concerns. I intimated to her that the Library's recent "discovery" of additional records might smell like a rat to the Board. Let me just explain that these additional records were the result of the Library's taking another shot at reviewing files under more current guidelines. There was also some misunderstanding of the punch list that ARRB created (before I had this assignment). According to Stephanie, "The Board" did not complete its review of the punch list and in following the compliance requirements, they became aware of this. (This might sound like an attempt at shifting blame, I see it as a miscommunication or function of lack of continuity; Tom told me that they had moved beyond the punch list, leaving me with the impression that it had been completed.) Another factor is that given more recent definition of AR, Stephanie now believes that more of the RFK records should be considered as EHU's or AR's. Apparently there is a great deal on Mongoose which previously was not considered an AR item. They have always been operating from the list designated by our staff during the June 1996 review. More on that later. I just want to get to the point for right now. In my conversation, I did not mention anything about a possible deposition. Stephanie simply volunteered to come to speak to the Board to explain what they have done. She said she "would be happy to come down and talk to the Board if that would help." I just wanted you to be aware of this as a possible option to deposition. She really is the most knowledgeable person on this subject up there. She is definitely a straight-shooter. She also knows Anna, and I think this would go over well. Let me know what you think.
