Subject: passports

You need to go to the State Department today with the memo that I have left on your chair in an envelope and Jack and Kermit's expired diplomatic passports. You need to go to 1111 19th St, Suite 350 to the Diplomatic window. You also need to pick up Visa applications for Russia and bring them back to the office. I was told that they need to be typed. Jack and Kermit will need to sign the applications. When the passports have been extended (hopefully by Wednesday), you will go back and pick up the passports and take the completed Visa applications and passport photos of each. They can then tell you how to proceed at that point. I was told this next step will take at least a week. When you fill out the dates of travel use the earliest possible date that they will leave the US and the latest possible date that they will return. They can go later and come back earlier, but not the other way around. I will be out at NARA and Walter Reed on Tuesday morning with the ballistics testing, hopefully back in the office by afternoon and then out again for most of Wednesday for more testing. If you have any questions, please page me. Thanks.
