Subject: Re: Research questions

At the moment, I am working more on military issues than CIA. I am doing background and investigative reading of a number of sources to try and determine the organizational structure and chain of responsibility of the Defense Intelligence Agency and other Pentagon intelligence services. I have a couple of calls in to former intelligence colleagues from the Navy, in an attempt to "good ol' boy network" my way into some answers. When I'm not doing that, I have been at Archives 2, reading the Ford Library files on the Rockefeller Commission (to try and see if they uncovered anything in the way of organizational structure, responsibility, or the existence of files that might be of use to us) and Ford's Warren Commission files. Dennis and I have also checked the Bethesda Medical Center and DIA files at Archives, to little avail. Finally, I have been trying to read a few pages of the Powers' biography of Helms each day. It won't help find anything, but I would like more background into Helms and the atmosphere in which he operated. So, that's what I'm up to... I hope to be joining you soon. If I might make an observation: I found Friday's discussion helpful and very reassuring, and I believe Manuel and Eric did as well. If you have the time, perhaps a weekly update of what you and Michelle have experienced over there might help us feel less out of the game and more like we're still part of the team. Maybe Friday?? Also, could you let me know what projects you're currently working on.Thanks.
