Body: Sure - I'll call them today. I know that the FR office keeps a copy of the current Federal Register on the front desk for copying, but I'm not sure what time in the morning it is first available. I'll ask.

Subject: Federal Register Copies
Our interpretive regulation will be published (I am told) tomorrow, Wednesday, June 28. Jeremy wants us to get copies of the interpretive regulation as it appears in the Federal Register right away (i.e., tomorrow morning), so that they can be enclosed with contact letters to the Attorney General and other DOJ officials (heads of DEA, INS, etc.) that are going out over David's signature tomorrow. I suppose, but don't know for certain, that the simplest way to do this is to go or send someone down to pick these up at the source. In any case, could you touch base with the appropriate Federal Register people today, and see that we get the copies tomorrow? Thanks.
