Subject:	Re: postage meter
Body:	Jerrie came to me at 5:15 and told me about the key being locked up, etc. She asked if I wanted to affix postage myself, (which I've done before when something had to go) but I didn't have enough stamps with me (large envelope.) She asked if there was a way to keep the key around so it could be used after Chris leaves, and I told her I'd ask you about it. Eileen was still here then but I never thought to ask her about it.To:Anne Buttimer/ARRBcc:From:Tracy Shycoff/ARRBDate:08/16/95 08:13:44 AMSubject: Re: postage metershe doesn't take the key home and as far as I am aware, we (the admin staff) all know where she keeps the key. Did you ask an AA and they didn't know?To:Tracy Shycoff/ARRBcc: From:Anne Buttimer/ARRB Date:08/15/95 05:28:57 PMSubject:postage meterthis is pretty mundane after Jeremy's reply to your swipe card message, but this is for real. When Christina leaves at 5:00 she locks the postage meter key in her desk and presumbably takes the key home. That left us stuck last night when mail had to go out at 5:15 (I'd carry it to a mailbox to get it out after our last pickup.) From now on can Chris lock the meter but leave the key in an accesible place where the admin. staff can find it? thanks.
