Subject: Re: Mission Statements

I may inadvertently be one of the offenders.... the only active project I'm involved with is the "Dallas project", and my understanding is that Tom submitted a mission statement to David some time ago. So I've not done anything on that. I presumed -- I hope correctly -- that you were copied and that you have no desire for a duplicative statement from me (not that I've actually seen what Tom gave to David, mind you!). In the charts given out at the R&A projects meeting, my box also contained "Labor investigation" and "I. Irving Davidson". You and I, for whatever reason, never had an actual conversation about those items at the time -- or subsequently. I've always assumed "Labor investigation" referred to the alleged Moynihan study. And I have no idea what the I.Irving Davidson project is -- except that I secured some HSCA documents for you (Oct) and Anne (June) relating to him a while back. I didn't think you were asking for mission statements on these two (a self-serving and perhaps mistaken assumption) topics. If you are, let me know. Though the Moynihan thing has been on inactive status for awhile, I could certainly put together a statement. As for I.Irving Davidson, I'd have to get some feedback from you before I could begin putting together a mission statement. My apologies if you've been waiting on me.
