Subject: Re: Reading Room

There is an error in the tickle program. I had already done this last week. I had also gone in and changed Status 200 from red to green, showing it completed. It was not on the tickle yesterday. When it showed up this morning I went back in to check it. It showed green and that it was completed so I don't know why it's sneaking in there on NOTES. Same is true of the presiding officer statement.
