Body: If the postponement has a >>>>> in front of it it is marked as NOT ROUTINE. If it does not have the >>>>> then it is routing.   ALL of the past reviews are currently marked as NOT ROUTINE and will have the >>>>> in front of them. As we get into new documents the >>>>> will become more usefulI have also added the Omnibus field to the RIF so you can see it. If someone has entered any items in the omnibus field they will show up.To:Chet Rhodes/ARRBcc: From:Mary McAuliffe/ARRB   Date:04/29/96 04:34:40 PMSubject:Review trackHow can I tell whether or not a reviewer has marked an individual postponement as routine or not without going into the individual postponement page? It doesn't seem to show up on the review summary page. (Unless, of course, I am to assume that "routine" does not show up and "nonroutine" will)The same goes for the number substitutes on the Omnibus Search Field. I have to enter each postponement page individually to check what the reviewiers have put down. That is going to be enormously time-taking.
