Subject: Re: Criminal Div Compliance
Fogel is definitely someone who has had JFK assassination-related responsibilities for a number of years. David can fill you in on some prior dealings we have had with him (regarding, as I understand it, a recent initiative in which DOJ asked the FBI laboratory to examine certain items of forensic/ballistic evidence).From your call report, it sounds like the Criminal Division is an office that may still be generating a significant amount of assassination records, and may still be doing so for years to come. I think Ron, Jeremy, David (if he wishes), and I should confer about whether and how the compliance program should address the issue of accounting for "new" assassination records. (The FBI is another agency that is likely to continue to generate records like this.)
