Subject: Re: Some recent messages by Aguilar
Ned:Thanks for the gift of some New Year's messages to brighten my morning.I also enjoyed reading the previous e-mail messages that you forwarded that "explained" why the President was "refusing" to decide the FBI's appeals of ARRB decisions. Those explanations were particularly amusing. I don't know whether you have heard that the FBI has since dropped its appeals, and that the documents have now been released. The previously redacted portions do not reveal what the e-mails alleged, but simply some of the FBI's FCI methods and the targets of the surveillance. In our replies to the FBI's briefings to the President, we were able to show that the FBI had already disclosed most of the methods previously, and that J. Edgar Hoover himself had disclosed, in public sessions before Congress, the targets of FBI FCI surveillance. You will no doubt be surprised to hear, as the unredacted documents now reveal, that the Soviet embassy was a target. Best wishes for the New Year--and thanks for keeping me informed.Jeremy
