Subject: Re: HSCA Correspondence

The short answer to Ron's query is, no, there is no one place where all HSCA document requests and replies are listed. The file Doug recalls looking at with me (in all likelihood) was a record series (see your NARA index of JFK Collection) called something like "Letters Regarding Compliance, etc., etc.....). This was an HSCA file that NARA opened way back when. Most or all of these letters are also somewhere in the HSCA Numbered Files (in fact, some of the Numbered Files versions had been postponed in part by NARA, even though the very same letters had already been opened in the "Letters Regarding..." record series). There is a copy of this record serie (organized by recipient agency) on ARRB premises: Kevin and others made the copy long ago and Kevin knows all about it. You may want to refer Ron to this file, although, generally speaking, it doesn't contain replies, although often you can use the HSCA letter out to an agency to locate the agency's reply (for example, if you know who the HSCA letter was addressed to and when, you can search the HSCA databases for replies from recipient in the same general time-frame, etc).Hope this helps. Feel free to query me again if my reply prompts additional questions on your part.P.S. Hi, Kevin! I think of you and Sue often, and trust all is going well!

I did not. However, Doug mentioned that at one time he viewed a file with you at NARA that contained HSCA document requests and possibly the responses (possibly Blakey's correspondence file). Any ideas?
