Subject: Re: Other E-Mail

Jack:I got the message at about 5:30 pm. Part of the delay could be on our side since our system dials out (on a regular schedule) to retrieve incoming e-mail. The meeting with State was very interesting. They will support our efforts in every way they can. They warned that all things dealing with Cuba are complicated and unpredictable. I'll fill you in when we talk next. Let me know what time you receive this message. Was it this afternoon that you were meeting with the State Department guy re Cuba? I am very curious as to his reaction and suggestions. This address is going to get simpler as soon as I can get the computer folks to make some changes. The advantage to this address is that the messages go to me right on the bench so I get them immediately. Sometimes the routing takes some time though. Please send me a reply when you get this. I want to see if this works better than AOL is working. JRT
