Subject: Re: Kermit's idea

I think this should be a simple one. The button should register the vote of "no" but not send it forward for Board for discussion. This should save everyone time.

Jeremy can you suggest lang for this button. David how would I code this in the voting? As a non-vote or as a vote to pass?

Kermit's idea for a "object but no need to discuss" button for the Board would save time both before and during the meetings. Is there any possibility such a button could be added?
