Subject: Re: Ben Bradlee, Jr. Boston Globe Interview Tapes

I spoke w/Chief David Kepley of the NARA Motion Picture Branch & explained our urgent need for some type of confirmation in re: to the tape & that I'd like to copy/borrow...He said he'll nose around & will definitely get back to us by COB today...I thanked him again for his efforts.

Dave, I think you should just go ahead and ask Mr. Kepley's group at audio-visual whether they have the Ben Bradlee, Jr./Boston Globe audiotapes of interviews with Dallas medical witnesses from 1981. The article was published on June 21, 1981, so I would imagine the interviews were conducted in May or June, 1981. This should be a relatively recent addition to their collection, forwarded to the JFK Collection by the Kennedy Library. We need the tape recorded interviews ASAP (especially the interview with Dr. Grossman), in support of our trip to Texas the week of March 17th. Thanks. (If they do not have time to copy them quickly, maybe they can loan us a copy of the Grossman interview.) I will continue to pursue with Steve Tilley whether or not he received the notes and working papers from the JFK Library. But you should tell Mr. Kepley that we have been assured that dubs of the audiotapes have been sent to NARA already by the Kennedy Library.
