Subject: Re: Thanks for memos; two questions

Paul, Good to hear from you. I only have a minute now, but I will provide more of an explanation tomorrow. I strongly prefer that you say nothing to anyone about our having sent the drafts to you. All of the information will come out over time, but I would like not to have to deal with that issue now. Best, Jeremy

I have two procedural questions: First, is there a deadline for my response (which I have drafted)? I tend to assume that the use of FedEx indicates urgency. Also, there is one issue about confidentiality which did not occur to me when we talked on the phone. I certainly will not divulge the subjects of these drafts, or any of the information in them. My problem is that, from time to time, I have talked with other researchers about our contacts with the Board, and the feedback we have (or have not) received. I have told people that my dozen or so letters have been acknowledged and apparently appreciated, but that I don't really know which of them have been followed up, and that I have not been called on since the Experts' Conference. In future conversations with my colleagues, it would be very awkward for me if I could not say that you have asked, in confidence, for my comments on your draft writeups of a couple of topics. I don't intend to wave this around, but I'm sure I will be asked whether I have heard from the Board. Please let me know if this kind of response would be a problem. Paul
