I am in no way upset. I thought I was just letting you know about the toner. Sometimes email can sound snooty when you don't mean it to but there is no problem as far as I'm concerned. The R&A staff comes to you to tell you when they need things so that is why I asked for you to let them know about letting us know sooner. I mentioned it to Tim yesterday already when he told me about it. As far as AJs, they don't carry it in stock. If Oval doesn't have it in stock we will have to order it from Canon. It is still possible to get it by Monday from Canon but we won't know until we call them if we need to. We'll keep you posted.

Look everyone, I don't mean to be getting anyone upset here. Tim came to me when the toner was getting low. It was on Wednesday. I left Christina a note for a rush order. I know she said she didn't have time to get the stock order number from older paperwork. Unfortunately, once Tim took the toner out of the machine to get the numbers off of it, and put it back in the machine, it no longer would work to print out even light copies as it had earlier. I don't know what project it is exactly that the machine is needed for, but I have seen several persons on it - for further info on this particular aspect, you should see Tim. But... If I have upset either one of you, I apologize. You should tell me so if I have and you should tell me how so. I didn't feel my previous emails were accusatory or rude in any way. If you feel differently, I'd appreciate your input.

Back to the matter at hand, if the supplier does not carry it, can we get the toner from another source, maybe a stationers perhaps?

We can get the toner by Monday if our supplier carries it. Can you let the folks who use the machine know that they should tell us when the toner is getting low as opposed to empty. Thanks.

Christina, the microfiche machine is suddenly a hot item these days, especially with Sydney and the military team. If we can get the toner in at all tomorrow, it would be most helpful and we'd be very appreciative. Thanks a lot, Cathy

I didn't get a chance today, to see the original order form with the stock number on it.

Let's check the book. I have a copy of the original order from Canon so we can check the stock number from that.

We received the airbills yesterday, but most of them were carelessly done by the representative. I'm
