Subject: Re: Possible visit dates

I defer to Laura and the FBI team. While it would be great to have you up here for another week, unless we received the unredacted copies of the previously processed Church Committee records prior to your arrival, I would not have any projects to justify the expense of your trip. To: Brian, Laura; From: Joseph Freeman/ARRB Date: 04/18/97 11:07:54 AM Subject: Possible visit dates Having discussed the matter with Carolyn, the week of May 18-24 would probably be the best upcoming week for me to come to D.C. to do Review Board work, if it is desired that I do so. I'd be happy to come if there is genuine need (not to mention how nice it would be to see everyone), but have no desire to drain the agency's resources in the absence of such a need. What with plane ticket, lodgings and all (though I think I could do the lodgings more cheaply than last time...), it's beyond me why David/Jeremy would want to even consider it, but the call is theirs, and yours. On a lighter and far more delightful note, I offer a bag of pretzels (or perhaps M&Ms) if either of you can identify the source of the following: Sit beside the fire and think of people long ago, and people who will see a world that I shall never know. But all the while I sit and think of times there were before, listen for returning feet and voices at the door. Clue #1 -- the author is/was not an Irish person Clue #2 - from the same source comes the more famous lines: All that is gold does not glitter, Not all those who wander are lost. The old that is strong does not wither, Deep roots are not reached by the frost.
