Subject: Re: HSCA Firearms Issue - C.E. 567
While I was on the road last week (in Pennsylvania), I saw a short wire story about Jerry Ford and the location of the President's back/neck wound, in which some researcher was making a big deal (conspiracy theory) about Ford's editing, and Ford was quoted as saying there was no conspiracy, he was just trying to make things clearer/more accurate, etc. I don't think the story referenced the source of the controversy being the Rankin papers (nor did it reference the Board, as I recall), because I remember wondering to myself whether the story somehow grew out of Jeremy's recent interview of Ford. On an only tangentially related topic, I presume Michael Kennedy's recent troubles have enhanced the odds for your ex-boss?
