Subject: Re: Running Sun?

Hi there. Yes -- I am still getting e-mail at this address and I'm always happy to hear from my little buddy, Janice. We are going to go to C-ville for the hike (although I currently can't remember whether the hike is on Saturday or Sunday), but we won't be spending the night (Jon and cats still make for incompatible sleeping partners.) So, with that information in hand, you should proceed in whatever way works best for you. I am just overwhelmed by the beautiful weather and I'm so happy that fall is on its way. It is supposed to be forty degrees tonight! WOO HOO!!! If it gets much colder, I'll have to extract my running tights from their summer hibernation spot. :-) Hope all is well with you and that you are getting into the swing of life at school. See you this weekend!

Hi Laura, Do you still get mail at this address? I'm a little confused. Are you still planning on going to the mooving party on Sat? Are you staying over? Would you like to go for a run on Sun? I need to know what to do? I have multiple options for the weekend:

1. Run 4 mile dog race w/ surgeon at school on Sat, run long with you on Sun.
2. Run long on Sat with friends at school, run short on Sun with you or alone.

Let me know how to proceed. Hi to Wren and Jon : ) Hope to see you Sat. Janice
