Subject: Re: Media and Academic Exposure to Our Military Document Releases; Timing of Thanks for sharing your plans with me. Here are some final, unsolicited thoughts:It will be impossible to share these materials with academics first, and not have any leaks. Knowledge is exciting, and it brings with it prestige and power, in their world. They will indeed, as you suspected, try to make it "their story."Why not do the media thing on the 18th with Kermit and Anna doing the spin, and invite some major academics like Patterson or May in on the 19th and 20th? This way you control the timing and spin of the release, without the possibility of any leaks.It is a pleasure to be working with you on this, sir. (By the way, my chronologies are turning into "socko" documents themselves, as Henry would say.) END
