Subject: Re: Welcome little dog!!

Body: I sent the puppy e-mail to you, Kevin and Tracy before I replicated and got your e-mail. So the other e-mail has all the puppy news in it. This will be short, as Finn and I are locked in the bedroom and she in one of her manic phases, and she is into my files and I see on the floor: 1) a copy of a glossy folder put out by the Morrison Institute (policy think-tank type place at ASU which I looked into at one point, re: job opportunities) being chewed on (no big loss), 2) a catalog from the Save the Manatee Club (also expendable), and 3) bits of red construction paper which I believe are pieces of a Valentine Day's poem given to me by a future Miss Ligonier over two decades ago -- I kept it this long, I should probably try and save the rest of it...The carnivore-denial story was great, though! I agree with your acute and astute analysis..
