Subject: Lawrence Schiller
Schiller was Mailer's assistant on the Oswald book. I spoke with him today following his return from Europe. Although he was formally pleasant, he said that he had thought "long and hard" about whether to make a copy of the Oswald-KGB file available to us. (David raised the issue with him several months ago.) He decided not to. He said he had reasons for not making them available. I asked whether he could explain those reasons or advise us on anything that we could do to talk to others. He said "no, you just need to respect my reasons."He also said that he had the only copy--clearly implying that Mailer does not have a copy, although Mailer's name did not come up.Subpoena?
