Subject: Re: Questions

Max, Good to hear from you. Let me try a quick response, as I am in an urgent need to leave. 1. We have the Ford Diaries. Let me know when you want to come take a look at them. 2. Our leads have dried up. However, we did discover Moynihan's own file on the issue and he agreed to open it. I don't yet know what's in it. It may be only newspaper clippings. But then again . . . 3. Oh, oh oh, Marty Underwood. Don't get me started. We have started, but are not finished with that fellow. Let's talk Dallas Magazine. Please say some nice things. I really need it. Cheers, Jeremy

 Jeremy, When you have a spare moment--and I imagine you don't have many--could you answer the following?
 1) What is the status of the Gerald Ford calendar/diary? Will it be donated in any form to the National Archives prior to the ARRB's close of business?
 2) Besides the Jules Draznin memo, have you secured any documents that shed light on RFK's private post-assassination inquiry? More specifically, have you been able to locate the memo (which Moynihan allegedly contributed to) that Warren Hinckle refers to in his "Lemonade" memoir of Ramparts days?
 3) Did the ARRB staff contact Martin Underwood, and get him to put on the record his claims re the assassination? And have any documents been located that support or contradict his assertions?
 I don't know if Eileen mentioned this to you, but D(allas) Magazine has asked me to write an article about the work of the review board for their 35th anniversary issue on the assassination, and I'd like to talk to you at some point over the summer. Thanks, as always. Max
