Subject: Re: Soviet Union: Constitution

Dear Mr. Collins: Thank you for your invitation. I would be very pleased to review the book you suggested, Professor Ludwikowski's new book on Constitution-Making in the Region of the Former Soviet Union. The September deadline is perfectly acceptable. (Because I am now involved in some closely related work, I could actually complete the review earlier than you suggest-- if that is of any interest). I would appreciate it if the reviewer's copy of the book could be sent, as soon as possible, to my home address at: T. Jeremy Gunn 1652 Wild Pine Way Reston, VA 20194-5600 703-481-8196 (h) 202-724-0088 (w) 202-724-0457 (fax) Sincerely, Jeremy Gunn

 Re: Invitation to author book review
 Dear Mr. Gunn: I am writing to you at the suggestion of Professor Kermit Hall of Ohio State University. Professor Hall is on our Editorial Board and speaks most highly of you and your work. I write to you as the Co-Editor of JURIST--Books-on-Law, a non-profit online service that reviews law-related books published by trade and university presses. We respectfully invite you to author a brief review, in the range of 1,500--2,000 words, of Rett R. Ludwikowski, Constitution-Making in the Region of the Former Soviet Union (Duke University Press, 1998) (cloth: $75:00). Assuming you have no conflicts of interest (Professor Ludwikowski teaches law at Catholic University), we would be most pleased to have you review this new book.
 JURIST--Books-on-Law
 Before saying more, let me introduce you to JURIST--Books-on-Law. JURIST is a Web site for law professors, judges, practitioners, and persons interested in legal matters. It is the first of its kind and is currently on the list of the top 5% LYCs, getting hits from some 50 nations. Books-on-Law is the book-review department of JURIST, including several sections: (1) a "Books Notices" section, listing notices of many forthcoming 1998 law-related books published by university and trade presses; (2) a "Book Review" section, running some 7 to 10 reviews of selected books per month. Reviews cover virtually all areas of law from international commercial arbitration and constitutional law and history to Internet law; (3) a "Past-Perfect" section, republishing a noted book review from the past, accompanied by commentary from a contemporary expert in the field at issue; and (4) a "Publishers" section, collating the names, addresses, and contact information for all major university and trade law book publishers, with hyperlinks to Web sites where available. Books-on-Law is located online at: <http://jurist.law.pitt.edu/lawbooks/>
