Subject: Re: question re 10 series file doesn't sound like the memos should be in the 10 series unless they are draft letters to members of Congress or their staffers. I will take a look at them.

Welcome Back! Thank you for the chocolate! Eileen, I thought I would ask your opinion on this because I believe you might have the most experience with the 10 series. Doug gave me several memos that he wrote to Jeremy to put in the ten series files. I checked the file plan and there is a 10.2.1 for Internal Communication that I thought these items may fall under. However, after checking the 10 series cabinet in Jack's office, it seems like most of the items in there have to do with Congressional reports, letters, and extentions. I didn't see anything that seemed like internal correspondence, but I also think there's a possibiity that subsection may not yet have been used. Do you think it's appropriate that these memos even be filed in the ten series? The memos concern Kodak and ARRB Efforts to Clarify the Record regarding Medical Evidence. No hurry, thanks for your input. Cathy
