Subject: Re: leave slips: PROTEST!

I am so proud that we have among us a man with the courage to stand up for what is right and to defend the rights of his fellow workers. But please don't ask me to carry any heavy signs.

This is totally unfair. Why should Friday be holiday only for those who have been on another planet? Not everybody can afford to go overspace, you know. Sure space travel is hard on the body, and one really does need some time off after returning from another planet. But the fact is that for most people, travel to other planets is done for leisure, not for work. So why should someone get vacation as a reward for having taken a vacation? I think that Friday should be a holiday for everyone who hasn't recently been on another planet, and I plan to organize a protest in which everyone who hasn't been on another planet stays out of work. I hope that this does not become a scar on my record, but this is something that must be done.

I need all leave slips for last week and this week by COB Tuesday. This is a short week and I need to send payroll in on Wednesday. Your cooperation will be greatly appreciated! (By the way, Friday is a holiday for those of you who have been on another planet!) Thanks.
