Let's make it the 24th -- or maybe just a tad sooner?To: Jeremycc:From: Joseph Freeman/ARRB

Date: 07/15/98 06:27:33 PMSubject: You're not going to believe this...But somewhere along the line, I got mixed up about the due date for my draft of Chapter 1. I must have convinced myself it was later, because I've had July 24th in my head for a while now! I just happened to look at your "Timetable for Completion" document a minute ago and read "July 15"! Egads. I feel terrible. As it stands, I have 30+ pgs. and all the hard stuff is done. All that remains is the legislative history (pretty straightforward) and the "Main Provisions of the JFK Act" section, which I was going to largely plagiarise from earlier reports anyway. I leave early Friday morning for Bob's ceremony via Ligonier. I may have it all done by then, but I'm not sure. Should I e-mail it along to you (even if there are odds and ends outstanding) last thing Thursday?Again, sorry. It genuinely was an accident, though I don't know if I'd made the deadline even if I had remembered it correctly. Please advise! I've been given a very brief and mildly vague (but perhaps you were vague?) account of Tuesday's staff meeting. I take it congratulations are in order? Perhaps you no longer care if I ever finish my draft?!! (just kidding)
